

Identity Map

Fill in your identity for each of the big boxes. Then, try your best to fill in one or two ways each identity affects your life or your worldview in the smaller boxes. For each small box you fill in, try to identify one or two emotions, values, or ideas tied to that aspect of your identity. For today's session, start with Race/Ethnicity and Age/Generation, then move on to more identities if you have time.

Adapted from Jacobson, D., & Mustafa, N. (2019). Social identity map: A reflexivity tool for practicing explicit positionality in critical qualitative research. International Journal of Qualitative Methods.
<https://doi.org/10.1177/160940691987007>